INSIDE OUT

cliff

BY LUDOVIA & ROBERTO PALOMBA

Let us introduce you to Talenti's CLIFF garden sofa with chaise lounge. The extreme versatility of the CLIFF collection allows you to play with a variety of shapes and materials of the various modules to create your own composition of the garden sofa and customize the perfect set up for your client's home.

JANUS ET CIE

palmia

Designed by founder Janice Feldman, Palmia pays homage to an era when life was as easy as a breeze, stylish but never fussy, and full of global curiosity. A signature chevron motif is repeated throughout the mesh seating and completed with sleek cushions. Stylized, decorative details on the aluminum frames, like a twisted cord within the table design and reverse-painted glass tops, influence the collection's European flair.

brea

With BREA, Edward Barber and Jay Osgerby have conceived an outdoor lounge system of quiet luxury and superior quality. Sophisticated and refined construction, together with an ingenious system of connectors, give the collection a modern profile and maximum versatility. Advanced cushion design and elaborate belting on the frame bring indoor levels of comfort to the outdoors.

cirql

With CIRQL, Werner Aisslinger draws on DEDON's unique handweaving heritage. The output: an unmistakably fresh and new outdoor collection. Based on round, friendly shapes and a sophisticated geometric woven pattern, CIRQL manages to be both iconic and inviting. Made with luxurious DEDON Fiber, unrivaled for quality and strength, the collection is able to withstand even the harshest outdoor conditions.

gem

Reminiscent of fantastically oversized jewelry, the sharp octagonal lines of GEM are dramatic. Conceived by Designer Henrik Pedersen, Gloster's GEM tables are carefully cut, beveled, flawlessly tesselate and created from 18 panels, seamlessly bonded to create a shape that is beautiful in its craftsmanship and simplicity.

CENTURY FURNITURE

thomas o’brien outdoor

“The designs come from two antique inspirations — one metal, and one wicker. The metal has a vintage European sense to it; the wicker is an American classic. Every piece is characterized by unique details and variations, and they can all mix in modern ways.” – Thomas O’Brien

PIERRE FREY

BOUSSAC

AMMON HICKSON

MATTHEW WILLIAMSON

Matthew Williamson's collection for Osborne & Little is named after the village in the hills of the Balearic island of Mallorca near where the international designer has a home and spends several months of the year. These surroundings have inspired embroidered and printed fabrics and wallpapers which are decidedly Mediterranean in mood and coloring.

LEE JOFA

suzanne rheinstein iii

Lee Jofa introduces its third collection with legendary designer Suzanne Rheinstein. Offering a lived-in and traditional sensibility, Suzanne Rheinstein III ushers its classic prints into the modern day with fresh and bright colors. Archive-inspired patterns blend with new original designs for a contemporary look grounded in tradition.

les indiennes

NINA CAMPBELL

Nina Campbell's collection of printed and embroidered fabrics, and wallpapers was inspired by the 17th and 18th century French vogue for textile designs originally produced in East India and traded via the Compagnie des Indes. These were given the generic name of Les Indiennes. Nina updates her iconic palette of blues, aquas and corals by adding exciting new color combinations, which pair black with emerald, red with teal and by mixing aqua with taupe and ochre. She also introduces softer romantic tones of blush pink with French grey.

black edition

A poetry of print and nature - indulgent textures, natural forms and a purifying palette masterfully combine to create a truly unique and imaginative collection. Through a harmonious collaboration with Japanese artist Katsutoshi Yuasa, Black Edition has embarked on an exploration of time-honored Japanese printmaking practices where traditional and contemporary techniques intertwine. Embracing oriental design and ancient craft in a contemporary and elegant way, Katsutoshi Yuasa's artwork is reimagined in a fascinating collection of decorative prints and weaves, delicate sheers, sumptuous upholstery weaves and dynamic wallcoverings.

EDELMAN LEATHER

formal, not formal

Formal Not Formal offers a nod to today's casual lifestyle and celebrates the natural beauty and durability of leather. The hand antiqued surface of Brulée provides subtle character where no two hides look alike, and the protective finish will develop beautifully over time as the leather ages. Dashing begins with a more active appearance created through modern finishing techniques and will respond quickly to its environment. It is intended to 'wear in' - telling its story of casual comfort. These leathers are the perfect solution for real life situations when luxury and durability are called to meet the demands of modern living.

SUE FIRESTONE

Kravet Couture introduces Malibu, its first collection with esteemed designer Sue Firestone. This collection of fabric, wallcoverings and trim speaks to organic simplicity, found in the designer's love affair with nature and her chic west coast aesthetic. Malibu's color palette is inspired by natural elements, such as pearls, haze and driftwood, presented on organic linens and wools.

HOLLAND & SHERRY

framework

H&S and Champalimaud teamed up to make Framework - a collection with foundational elements. This durable line of textiles in rich and sumptuous shades are designed to serve as the building blocks for every project.

flourish

Inspired by the enduring beauty of flowers, the new Flourish collection from TAI PING imagines blooms as a sensory experience. Out-of-focus or abstracted, captured in mid-air or in frozen ice, each design awakens the senses through movement, color and complex gradation effects. Made in Nepal of Tibetan wool and Chinese silk; colors and sizes are fully customizable.

J.D. STARON

mystic

With Sari Silk as his muse, Jakub Staron fashioned the Mystic collection. Classic designs are deconstructed using two different types of weaves. The intriguing combination of flat-weave and pile delivers maximum contrast to the recycled sari silk texture mixed with cotton yarns. The resulting character is sophisticated yet rugged, boldly opulent, and extremely "shabby chic."

aerin

AERIN for The Shade Store is an exclusive collection of soft, painterly prints for drapery, Roman and roller shades. The collection, which reflects the lifestyle of AERIN founder Aerin Lauder and her family home in the Hamptons, includes light filtering roller shade designs and soft cotton fabrics in traditional prints and florals for Roman shades and drapery.

PURE KITCHEN

kitchens / cabinetry / home living / hardware

The Frame Design for SieMatic's PURE lifestyle kitchen collection blends white, grey, and black hues with wood-grain finishes for a minimalist concept that emulates timelessly elegant comfort. The characteristic feature of the new handleless kitchen design is a delicate 2-centimeter frame that surrounds cabinets, side panels, and countertops, which creates clear boundaries with cubic forms while at the same time opening up a wide range of design and configuration options; kitchens in open floor plans appear as individual, sculptural design elements or like artwork integrated into the surrounding architecture.
